Weatherman Says April Will Be Clear And Warm

According to Devoe's Weather Forecast, April weather will, as usual, be changeable, but will have many clear and warm days.

These forecasts may be found in the Elba, Ladies' Bazaar, Almanac and the Carlini Calendar, published by the Chattanooga Medicine Company, manufacturers of Chattanooga Black-Drainage and Carlini, popular household medicines.

The Chattanooga Medicine Company's large and modern laboratories are located at the foot of Lookout Mountain, Chattanooga, Tenn., and has run an unbroken schedule of advertising in this paper for many years.

Farms' Corn Short 5 Million Bushels

Farm crops of corn in Alabama are over 5,000,000 bushels short of the supply on hand the same date last year, reports F. W. Gist, State and Federal statistician who stated the other day that the farm stocks on March 1, this year, amounted to 11,507,000 bushels, compared with 17,000,000 bushels on the same date last year and a five-year average of 19,681,000 bushels.

Regarding the farm stocks of corn in the United States, Gist said that there were 700,000,000 bushels March 1, compared with 907,000,000 bushels a year ago and a five-year average of 1,051,000,000 bushels.

BOOKER WASHINGTON HOME

Officials of the Booker Washington Association of Montgomery are continuing their efforts to raise the quota for the Booker Washington Home in Alabama. Their success in Elba last week was commendable. They are still appealing to the religious and fraternal organizations, business men and corporations, teachers and best thinking people of both races to cooperate with them in raising the required funds. Those that did not make their donation last week are being looked to by the association this week for their donation. The officials wish to thank the following for their donations, viz: Messrs. Duke Taylor, Peoples Drug Store, I. G. A. Store, County Supervisor, J. D. Heath, Dorsey Brothers, Benneuer-Jeter Hardware Co.

The officials ask that you make all checks payable to the association, and ask for receipt when making a donation. The secretary will acknowledge when received. The Clipper will publish it in the following issue. The officers are: Messrs. Duke Taylor, Peoples Drug Store, I. G. A. Store, County Supervisor, J. D. Heath, Dorsey Brothers, Benneuer-Jeter Hardware Co.

What The Well Dressed Woman Will Wear For Spring

Springtime means an outdoor time, parties and gatherings take on that freedom of restraint that makes winter a bore. With the advent of Spring the first thoughts of the normal woman turn to clothes, dresses, coats, shoes and hats. This Spring there is a radical and pleasing change from the drab colors of the past season to the gay and colorful.

Bright, cheerful blues, pleasing greens, and a mingling of various colors that give to the wearer at once a spirit of ecstasy. Rosenbros of Troy have assembled through the efforts of their buyers, who spent several weeks each in the Eastern Markets, a most gorgeous showing of all that is new.

Gorgeous Hats, and delightful Footwear. In addition you will find also the essential accessories, such as the proper Gloves, Hose, Scarfs and other little things that go along to make the Spring Ensemble correct. Then too, the cost this season is by far less than you would expect.

Due to the late Easter, which comes on April 5th this year, all prices have been lowered before these goods were purchased so that the patron reaps the benefit of the lower level. Rosenbros are sending buyers to New York to personally select the styles and you can rest assured that if you buy from Rosenbros, it is correct.

An invitation is extended to the readers of this paper to come to Troy and visit this store. To see the new things. No obligation to buy is involved. Just come and look and join the many admirers of this new pretty Spring Display of Wardrobes.

The Men folks, too, are not forgotten. Hart Schaffner & Marx Spring suits are here as well as the new models in Felt Hat for Spring, and Shoes too. Make it off of by bringing your car full of friends, they will enjoy the treat.

You are always welcome at ROSENBERG BROTHERS.

Troy, Alabama.

Working Ladies Urged To Wear Cotton Frocks

Ways and means of saving the "poor working girl" from paying so many bills for new dresses and new cleaning and the same time increase consumption by "milions of yards" has been suggested by S. A. Burns, chief of the Warehouse and Gin Division of the Department of Agriculture and Industries.

Mr. Burns made the following statement:

"I suggest that all working ladies, including stenographers, bookkeepers, office women in all offices including banks, Chambers of Commerce, farm organizations and private concerns, as well as mill workers and others, wear frocks made of cotton over their dresses when working. The frock should be large and long enough to protect the whole dress. I suggest long sleeves for winter, while for summer it may be with or without sleeves.

"This will save much dress cleaning and also save the poor working girl from having to buy so many new dresses. For a change this will at least enable girls to wear a dress a while without changing at noon.

"The main advantage of this move is to increase cotton consumption and if this is adopted it will take millions of yards to supply the demand of all working women in the United States."

New 5-Passenger Coupe Announced By Chevrolet

A new body style, the 5-passenger coupe, has been added to the 1931 line of Chevrolet. Says, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, announced this week.

The new model is Chevrolet's latest addition to its deluxe line, another of which, the convertible, was brought out early in January, and through which Chevrolet is establishing a new record of quality, luxury and individuality in the low priced field.

The new type, which brings the number of passenger models in the Chevrolet line to eleven, is priced at $1000 f.o.b. Flint, Mich.

The 5-passenger coupe is of the 3-door, class-coupled type with the sport treatment carried thru out. Body is by Fisher. Finish is in new Duco combination of green wheels, and the roof and rear quarters in Sheffield green. The trim stripe is cream.

Interior arrangement is practically the same as in the standard sedan, affording abundant leg room for all passengers. The front seats are separate, the driver's being adjustable. The other has a thin back and can be tilted forward. The rear seat holds three persons comfortably. The three-lined floor is exceptionally wide, permitting easy entry for passengers.

The interior appointments are of the deluxe type throughout. The upholstery is optional in Bedford, or mohair. The instrument board is specially designed. There are arm rests, an assist cord on the right side, ash tray and cigarette holder on the rear side and rear window.

Exterior treatment is in keeping with the interior. A package compartment in the rear deck holds large capacity and is easily accessible. Radiator grille and front lights in chrome plate are easily changed. Chromium plating is also freely employed on headlamps and other trim hardware. The Fisher VV windshield is used. Five wire wheels are standard equipment with the same carried in the rear.

The new model is now in production and dealers throughout the country are being stocked for immediate delivery.

BASIN NEWS

The health of the community is not so good at the present, but we hope everybody will soon be better.

Peasut shells seem to be the latest thing in the social line of the community, everybody getting a nice lot of peanuts shelled.

"CHAMPS" DIFFER WIDELY IN CHOICE OF NOURISHMENT FOR GRUELING FEATS

Charles Augustus Lindbergh ate prosaic ham sandwiches on his epochal flight across the Atlantic. Gertrude Ederle kept up her energy with candy and hot tea when she swam the English Channel. Ruth Nichols, who broke Lindy's transatlantic record in her own flight from Los Angeles to New York, ate a special lemon juice cocktail to keep up her energy in grueling matches. When Commander Ederle undertook to conquer the Antarctic he had to consider the great danger of overeating, but he took with him sixteen thousand pounds of sugar, as energy fuel.

WHAT do the champions eat or drink to sustain themselves while testing the powers of human endurance?

The Greeks do not tell us what it was their leader ate, or drank, in order to keep up the energy which enabled him to swim the treacherous Hellespont each night to see his sweetheart, Hero. He ate a mythological person, perhaps, or molasses.

We do know, though, that while Gertrude Ederle was swimming the English Channel, making a time record which brought her the plaudits of the world, she ate candy under the direction of her physician.

From time to time Trudy swam alongside the tug which accompanied her on the swim and received in her mouth a ration of concentrated sweet. In addition to the sugar, chief of the crew, from time to time a bottle of warm tea.

When Charles Augustus Lindbergh made his epochal flight from New York to Paris on May 20, 1927, he gave little attention to the matter of food. All he carried with him in the way of nourishment was a few hard sandwiches and a bottle of milk. His stomach was contented, however, as physical, but he showed the little sign of fatigue before he was able to reach the Spirit of St. Louis at Bourges, France.

The answer is that Lindbergh is a remarkable person. Few can eat and drink so much and still be able to do the feat he did.

When a policeman of St. Louis found five men exchanging money with the passing of each motor car, he learned that they were gambling on the license plate numbers and placed them under arrest.

When immigration officers searched a home-driven sleigh in South Ste Marie, Mich., they found 51 quarts of Canadian liquor.
